WATER WORKS

May Yet be Established Here If Citizens Want It.

Vote on Proposition to be Submitted to the People at an Early Date

WILL NOT INCREASE TAXES.

We are informed that there is a possibility of securing a water works for our city at an early date provided the people are willing that our town shall have such a luxury as this would be, should it be installed.

The Lexington gentlemen who were here a few days ago, propose to put in a plant here, provided the city would take at least thirty fire plugs at the rate of $40 each per year.

The Council is willing to contract with them but before they act they want the endorsement and approval of the people they represent.

It will not increase the taxes one penny but it will authorize the Council to contract with the company for a period of twenty years to pay for water out of the revenue that is now being collected annually.

We believe there is not a voter in the town who would oppose a proposition like this and we are anxious to see the proposition submitted for a vote.

With a water works installed here our town would take on new life; new enterprises would come in and start here; factories would be located here; and hundreds who are now out of employment would be given work at good wages; building would take on a boom and every one would be benefitted; but until we can have water works we will never see much improvement in our town.

See the Mayor and urge upon him to call an election to vote upon the water works and let's start the ball rolling.

With the twentieth century comes the actual beginning of a revolution in social affairs. There have been threats of reform and change in many social customs, and it has been on the tapis many times to do away with several exceedingly foolish and awkward ceremonies in vogue between the refined members of what is gracefully called society. And there has been no habit more senseless than that of removing his hat upon every meeting with a female acquaintance. Heaven only knows where such a stupid and such an awkward act received its origin. (Amen!) says the bald-headed man. It has arbitrarily controlled the men and was supposed to rank as a mark of the gentleman for as many years back as history extends, despite the colds it has caused and the men it has hustled into their graves. So now it is said we are to do away with this sort of thing and the sensible and simple substitute that prevails in oriental countries is to be adopted. That mode consists in placing the hand over the heart and bending the head slightly forward so as to make a noticeable but not extravagant obeisance. Progress has been made in this reform to such an extent that most gentlemen now just touch the brim of the hat, a la militaire, when meeting a lady, and it is accepted as good form.

Quarterly Court was in session Monday and Tuesday of this week.

CONTEST SETTLED

And Gilliam Given Seat Claimed by Byrley.

The contest over the Chairmanship of Knox county was tried last week at Louisville before the State Central Committee and by a vote of 7 to 6 voted to seat J. A. Gilliam instead of W. B. Byrley.

Robert Winn, Chairman of the State Central Committee opposed the action of the committee and declared that it was robbery, but the plans were laid to take the office from Byrley and they did so regardless of right, and declared Gilliam to be the Chairman of Knox county.

Mr. Gilliam, the new chairman, is a resident of Corbin, and is a Republican of the old school, he has been a member of the County Committee for several years and was re-elected as the committeeman from the Corbin precinct last Spring. He stands well with the party and no one can say anything against him, the only question arose as to whether he or Byrley had received a majority of the County Committee.

We wish for Mr. Gilliam success as leader of the party in Knox county, and hope that he may be as successful in building up the party and in getting out the vote as Mr. Byrley has been in the past. The honor that has come to him is one that might be appreciated and we hope that he may prove himself in every way worthy of the place and position to which he has been elevated.

We believe that he will do his duty faithfully and has the support of the members of the committee he will make a good and faithful chairman.

$3.60

School Per Capita For En-suing Year.

(Special to Mountain Advocate.)

Frankfort, Ky., July 22.—State Superintendent J. G. Crabbe today declared a school per capita for the ensuing year of $3.60, the largest in the history of the State. It is estimated there will be $2,661,667.20 to the credit of the school fund.

Morris & Mitchell are putting down a concrete walk around the First Methodist church, from the Sunday-school entrance and connecting it with the walk leading from the main entrance and from there to the street. This will be a great improvement. The Ladies Aid and the Epworth League are having the work done.

S. T. Davidson is arranging to move his business house on Knox street, back on a line with the other buildings which will help the appearance very much. For years this building has stood out about five feet in front of the adjoining building and was unsightly. We are glad to note this change.

The Civic League has made flower beds and planted flowers in the courthouse yard which will make a great improvement to the place and add much to the appearance. Let the good work go on. The League is doing a great work and every one should encourage them.

The public well continues to grow more popular as the days go by, until now there is scarcely a family in the entire city who does not visit this popular well at least once each day to partake of the water.

LECTURE

At the Court-house To-night in Interest of Education.

Rev. James Bond, D. D., and a trustee of Berea College, and financial agent of that institution, will deliver, on address upon "Progress of the Negro Race," and will speak of the proposed plans of Berea for the colored people of the State.

All friends of Education and of the Negro are cordially invited to come out and hear Dr. Bond, as he is a native of Knox county, raised on Richland, and feeling the importance of an education walked across the country seventy-five miles to Berea in 1879 where he matriculated as a student, and has been connected with that institution continuously since in some form.

He will describe the progress of his race, and tell you of the great work Berea college is planning for the colored people of Kentucky.

The general public is invited to attend, and many of the most prominent citizens have promised to be there.

Come out and hear the lecture any way, as it will be free.

MAT HALE.

Candidate for Circuit Clerk.

NOTICE.

To the People of Knox County:

I wish to state that while I am engaged in teaching this fall, I expect to see you before the primary election which will be held sometime during the year 1909. I am in the race for Circuit Court Clerk, and ask your support and influence.

Respectfully Yours,
Mat Hale.

Give Us Some Factories.

Now that we are about to secure a water works it would be well to begin in earnest to secure some factories for our town.

We have urged this matter time and again, but as yet there has but few started and it seems that if some one would start a canning factory or an overall factory here they would prove profitable, and would induce other lines of industry.

Harold, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hudson, was accidentally burned Tuesday afternoon about the face, by getting hold of a bottle of carbolic acid. A physician was called and the pain soon allayed.

Uncle Tony Doodney has been on the sick list for the past few days and is not improving much at this writing.

Roasting ears and ripe tomatoes are on the market, and we printers are happy.

Base ball is on the wane.
Fried chickens are getting ripe.

CIVIC LEAGUE

Held Interesting Meeting This Week.

The Civic League met Wednesday afternoon with a large number present. Various questions of importance were discussed, and the city council commended for their gracious reception and their effort to carry out some of the things asked for.

Attention was called to the fact, that the street cleaning law had not been enforced throughout the town. Expecting on the street had not been stopped. No response had come as to the possibility of having a dumping ground. The League has been invited for further conference with the Fiscal Court to whom they are most gratefully indebted for flowers planted on the square.

The ladies will please bring their geraniums to the court-house this afternoon, but will not meet with the Fiscal Court until the following Friday, July 31.

The Festive Cucumber.

You know this is the time of year when the death-dealing cucumber is abroad in the land seeking whom it may double up and make sad. It found a victim in the person of certain Adjutant of a prominent G. A. R. post, and who by the way is an expert gardener himself. When the Adjutant went home to dinner the other day he was both tired and hungry, with an appetite like a self-binder, and when he sits down to the table and sees before him the first cucumbers of the season he can hardly wait until he gets a quantity stored away under his belt. Under this hot said cucumbers quietly lay in wait until the water has gone to sleep for the night. Then they got up on their feet, unbutton their vests, roll back their sleeves and proceed to business. At the first attack the old Adjutant sees the battles of the late rebellion, he hears the bugle's call to arms. He leaps forward, but he falls back in a heap upon the bed, thinking that a Johnny Reb had snuck him over the head with a musket, but the cucumbers rapidly got warmed up and the victim's agonies increase. The Adjutant dreams become more picturesque and he begins to snort and feels things like monkeys and goblins dancing the Highland fling on his abdomen. The dancers gradually enter into the sport with more zest and reinforcements keep on arriving. Things got desperate and Mrs. B. and W. were telephoned for and instructed to bring their full-grown stomach pumps. At last, about about daybreak, the local militia, the Harboursville fire department and the Red Men's Band appear upon and join in the terpsichorean exercises. When the valiant old Adjutant awoke the next morning the first thing he did was to feel of his stomach to see if it is still there. He found it, also the cucumbers which the night before sat up and smiled so innocently at him. There are lots of people who are harvested before they are ripe simply because they absorb more cucumbers into their anatomy than their digestive apparatus can cope with, and will surely cause them to see many tetragns of various color.

LIQUOR CAPTURED

And Held by the Chief of Police.

Last Friday G. J. Faulkner sent Van Newley, a colored man of this city, to Middlesboro for liquor, and upon his arrival at the depot on his return trip he was arrested and the liquor taken from him, whereupon Faulkner swore out a warrant of delivery in the Knox Quarterly Court Wednesday to try to secure his liquor, and Judge Sampson, after hearing the evidence in the case handed down the following written opinion:

In this case the plaintiff seeks to recover from the defendants, I. H. Ballard, Judge of the Harboursville Police Court, W. H. McDonald, Chief of Police, and Foster Perry, Special Police, the possession of a quantity of beer and whisky, taken and held by the defendants as officers from the plaintiff, Faulkner. The evidence shows that the plaintiff furnished money to one Van Newley, and directed him to go to the city of Middlesboro and there procure three dozen pints of beer and two quarts of whisky and carry it to Harboursville for the plaintiff, and that said Newley in following said instructions was arrested in the city of Harboursville carrying said liquors with avowed purpose of delivering same to plaintiff. It is further shown that the Police Court upon the calling of the case against Newley for carrying said liquor into local option territory directed that said liquors be held as evidence on said trials and said trial has not yet been had.

Under the local option act of 1906, it is made unlawful for one to carry intoxicants into local option territory for another and it was therefore unlawful for Newley to carry liquor for the plaintiff, and the engagement entered into by the plaintiff and said Newley was in violation of law and those taking part in it can not now invoke the law for their protection. Further, the Police having directed that said liquors be held as evidence renders impossible for the plaintiff to make out his case under the code provision requiring the plaintiff to show that the property was not taken under any order or judgment of the court. No quantity of liquor, no matter how small, can be carried by one for another into local option territory, and no person for himself is permitted to carry a greater quantity than one gallon. Newley violated the law, and the plaintiff is attempting to take advantage of his arrangement made in violation of law with Newley in order to procure the liquor paid for with his money. This the law will not permit him to do.

It is therefore adjudged by the Court that the plaintiff has not shown himself entitled to the relief sought; that a Police officer coming in possession of liquors as shown by the facts in this case can not be divested of the possession in this sort of proceeding. The application is dismissed and the defendants will recover of the plaintiff their costs herein expended.

F. D. Sampson,
Judge Knox Quarterly Court.

A Great Land Opening.

Washington, D. C., June 22, 1908.

A number of exceptional opportunities are now being offered by the Government for enterprising and intelligent farmers to secure choice farms on a dozen or more large irrigation projects which are nearing completion.

Owing to the rapid narrowing of the limits of the unoccupied public domain, it is doubtful if these opportunities will ever occur again. It is probable, therefore, that the West will see one of the greatest influxes of homeseekers in 1908 that has been witnessed in many years.

The great fertility and wonderful crop yields from irrigated lands, and the favorable terms the Government offers settlers, warrants the belief that before the year closes not a single farm will be without its entrained. These farms are located in North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming and Nevada.

Letters addressed to The Stationer, U. S. Reclamation Service, Washington, D. C., will secure full information concerning the location, soil, climate, crop possibilities, and terms of disposal.

For fear something may happen,
But it hasn't happened yet.

There was once a lonely woman
Who cried down by the sea;
"What if my pretty children
All should perish be!"

Now that this particular woman
Who thus did cry and fret,
Is still a maiden lady,
So it hasn't happened yet.

HOW TO TELL HER AGE.

Girls of a marriageable age do not like to tell how old they are, but can find out by the following subjoined instructions, the young lady doing the figuring: Tell her to put down the number of the month in which she was born, then multiply it by 2, then add 5, then to multiply by 50, then to add 5, then to subtract 365, then to add 155, then tell her to tell you the amount she has left. The two figures to the right will tell you her age and the remainder the month of her birth. For example, if the amount is 822, she twenty-two years old and she was born in the eighth month (August.) Try it.

The need of some place to drop down for a moment and forget things is a crying one in most homes. There ought to be enough sofas around to accommodate all the family. Five minutes rest will prevent many a family row, and how can you get rest if you have to pull shams off the bed and roll up the overalls? A shabby old lounge where you can get at it is worth its weight in gold; and you won't want to die half so many times if you make use of it. The loosening of the tension for ever so few minutes may save your reason some day. Don't go out and try to walk off your worries; don't tell them to your friend, either. Just throw your self down on the sofa a little while, shut your eyes and pretend you have no care. The worries will be lighter before you realize it, your brain will be clearer and heart made stronger to meet those that press closest.

If brothers and sisters err, the world says "shun them; thus you will show that you disapprove of the act, making an example of them." Alas! how many examples we have of this mode of teaching crowding the haunts of infamy to-day. Once bright young lives, over pure lips and innocent brows mothers watched in all tenderness, but the trembling feet took one false step, and so we thrust them out of our hearts, out of our churches, and would even thrust them out of heaven. Is it right, is it just, is it Christ-like?

ADVICE TO AN ENGAGED MAN.

If you think that woman is any weaker minded than a man, stop where you are.

If you intend to treat yourself any better than your wife, don't take one.

If you suppose that running the house consists of paying the bills, don't undertake it.

If you have an idea that you are too good for a pickled dinner, remain a bachelor.

If you have found it a hard task to be happy yourself, don't try to make any one happy.

If you think that a house should have only one head, and that be yours, postpone your wedding indefinitely.

If you are of the opinion that marriage makes the man and wife one, and that you are that one, send in your regrets at once.

If you are one of the men who think that ten per cent of their income belongs to the tap-room, let marriage alone.

THE EVIL OF FRETTING.

There is one sin which seems to us everywhere and everybody underestimated and quite too much overlooked in valuation of character. It is the sin of fretting, so common that unless it rises above its usual monotone we do not observe it. Watch any ordinary coming together of people and see how many minutes it will be before some body frets—that is, makes more or less complaining statement of something or other which most probably every one in the room, or in the car, or on the street corner, and which probably no one could help. Why say anything about it? It is cold, it is hot, it is wet, it is dry; somebody has broken an appointment, ill cooked a meal; stupidity or bad faith somewhere has resulted in discomfort.

There are plenty of things to fret about. It is simply astonishing how much annoyance may be found in the course of every day's living, even at the simplest, if one only keeps a sharp eye out on that side of things. Even holy writ says we are prone to trouble as sparks to fly upward. But even to the blackest of smoke there is a blue sky above, and the less time they waste on the road the sooner they will reach it. Fretting is all time wasted on the road.

A girl that is not neatly dressed is called a sloven, and no one likes to look at her. Her face may be pretty, and her eyes bright, but if there is a spot of dirt on her cheek, and her fingers' ends are black with ink, and her shoes not laced or buttoned up, and her apron is dirty, and her collar not buttoned, and her skirts are torn, she cannot be liked. Learn to be neat and when you have learned it, it will almost take care of itself.

It is only too true that to refrain from showing affection makes the wife miserable. She does not care for presents or lavish attention; she wants those little tokens such as may be given even in a look, which will prove her husband's love. We wish some of the good things that some men are saving up, to say concerning their wives after they are dead could be said now. A man will spend $25 to buy cut flowers for his dead wife's coffin, when if he spent 25 cents for a bunch of flowers for her when she was alive, she would have fainted. You wait until she is dead and then get some preacher to tell how good she was.

Most men would prefer domestic happiness to great riches.

A young woman in Gibson City, Illinois, has resigned her position as teacher in the public schools for the purpose of going as a missionary to Africa. Why should she go so far when Chicago is so near, and where there are more heathens to the square yard than there are in Africa to the twelve square miles. Strange ideas of missionary these marmos have.

Start right, boys. To be anybody to accomplish anything for yourself or the community, you cannot be idle. Don't drink—liquor destroys the mind and body. Don't swear—gentlemen do not. It is low and vulgar. Don't read trash literature. It leads to the devil. Don't hang around saloons. Good men are not made that way. Whenever ever you see a man lying around a saloon the devil is after him and will get him sooner or later.

YOU MAY HEAR OR SEE STATEMENTS MADE BY MY

Competitors that they are selling goods at low prices, but I say to the trade, that you have heard the wind blow lots of times.

Now I want to say to you for all time to come, that you can always find goods at the Mammoth Store at as low prices as any of my competitors can afford to sell them, and I sell them to you lower I hope you won't grumble at it. My motto is Quick Sales and Short Profits.

I have been connected with the goods business for 38 years, and I have heard it thunder often during the time. Have just received a fresh car-load of flour, also a car-load of lard which I expect to offer to the trade at prices I am confident will meet all competition. I am not in the business to be side-tracked.

I am noted for being ready to talk and name low prices when they come to see me on all kinds of goods I handle.
